Manuscript Evaluation | Book Mentoring

Manuscript Evaluation

This is a core factor that distinguishes a traditionally published book from the usual self published books. Most authors do not get their manuscripts professionally evaluated. Our experienced editors evaluate the book as per the most relevant parameters – Plot, Structure, Narrative, Characterisation and writing style – and provide a critique. This helps to evaluate if a book is ready for publishing or needs rework. It also helps to determine the extent of rework or editing required by the book.

Book Mentoring

Our mentors add value to your work by providing a critique, guiding you in enhancing the plot, structure, narrative and characterisation. They guide you in the choice of writing style as per the norms and trends of the genre chosen.

ISBN & Barcode

ISBN and Barcode on a book are required to facilitate its commercial sale.

The international Standard Book Number (ISBN) is the unique identifier of a publishedbook.

An ISBN is assigned to each edition and variation (except reprintings) of a book.

ISBNs are issued by the ISBN registration agency that is responsible for that country or territory. In India Raja Rammohan National Agency for ISBN under Ministry of Culture is the government agency responsible for registration of Indian publishers and authors.

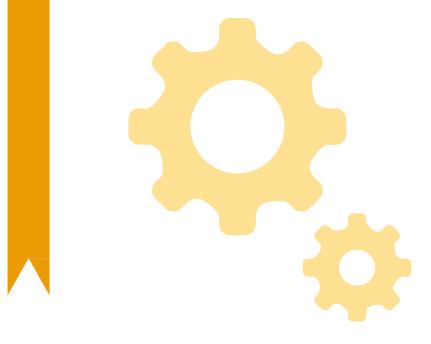

In order for booksellers to automatically capture an ISBN, it must be converted into a barcode that can be scanned at the point of sale.

Every book published through BecomeShakespeare.com has an ISBN and Barcode.

Printing

The printed book still reigns over the hearts of millions of readers. The smell of a new book, the tactile joy of holding a well-crafted book in your hands and then proudly displaying it on your shelves is something that continues toattract readers.

Ebook Creation

Electronic form of books have had an exponential growth in the past few years. With more and more people using electronic devic- es such as Laptops, Tablets, Mobile phones and ereaders to read books, making your title available in ebook format is crucial.

We offer:

Printing EBook creation

Some readers may even purchase both the electronic and physical versions of a book.

Types of Printing

Digital Printing

Digital printing technology does not require the creation of printing plates. It has a very short turnaround period and relatively low cost of printing perbook.

Print run: Less than 1000 copies

Offset Printing

Offset printing is the traditional method of printing that involves the creation of printing plates. Offset printing offers you economies of scale. Though digital printing technology has substantially reduced the costs of printing per book for short print runs, when print runs are large, offset printing works out to be more economical.

Print run: More than 1000

Offset Web Printing

Offset Web Printing is generally used for very large print runs. The printers used in these processes are huge and run at a speed of 3000 ft per minute or faster.

Print run: More than 5000 impressions

Printing Factoids

Book Design & Structure

The covers of books can be hard or soft. The hard cover can be made out of thick textured paper, imitation leather, or even cloth. Hardcover books can have dust jackets made out of thinner and lighter paper.

Paperbacks or soft covers are made of thick art paper (250-300 gsm). The mechanism used to hold together the pages and cover of a book is called its binding. There are different types of binding including but not limited to – perfect binding, saddle stitch (section binding), and side staple. A lot of information about this is available on the internet.

Paper Quality

Generally the paper used to print books is light in weight i.e. 60-90 grams per square metre (gsm).

Uncoated papers have a slightly rough, natural feel to them, while coated papers have a smooth finish and are used for printing photographs, magazines etc. Both these types of paper are used for book printing, depending on the type of book.

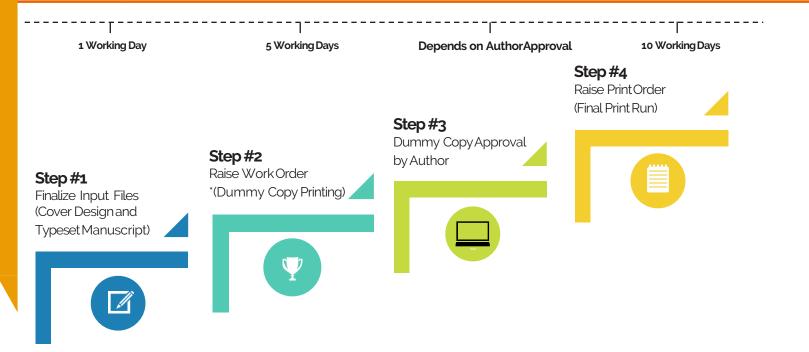

The shades of papers used are generally white or natural (i.e. off- white).

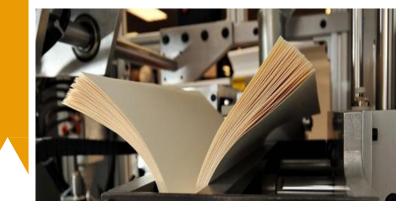

Printing Process

Printing & Book pricing

Ideally, Printing cost <= 25% of MRP

But the MRP of the book must also match the market i.e. it should in the same price range as other popular books in the same genre.

In order to earn a substantial revenue, self published authors end up pricing their books exorbitantly high because the print cost of small print runs ishigh.

BecomeShakespeare.com offers printing services that match the quality of traditionally published books at an economical cost.

Our printing costs are:

Up to 300 copies: Rs. 0.60 per page 300-500 copies: Rs. 0.50 per page 500-1000 copies: Rs. 0.40 per page

Ebooks Creation

Benefits of Ebook

Global Access

Your next reader may be located anywhere in the world. To ensure that each potential reader gets to read your story, making your book available globally is of an utmost importance.

Economical option for buyers

Ebook version of a title is generally priced 40 - 50% lower than the paperback version of the same. A lot of readers prefer this over paperback for the same reason.

No recurring cost of production

Unlike paperback, ebook creation is a one-time expense. Sales of ebooks directly contribute to profit as the volume goes up.

At BecomeShakespeare.com, we create ebooks in all popular formats such as Epub, .Mobi, iBooks, ePdf which are compatible with e-reading devices and platforms worldwide.
